
Important news about downloads

Attention: Important information about our downloads

Our site uses an FTP server to provide downloads.

Chrome (and thus also MS Edge due to the use of the Chromium engine) has discontinued support for FTP with the latest versions:

<https://www.ghacks.net/2019/11/03/google-adds-temporary-flag-to-chrome-to-allow-ftp-protocol/>

This means it is no longer possible to download from our site!

In the current version, however, FTP can be switched on again.

To do this, "surf" to the following address:

chrome: flags

Now search for FTP and switch from "default" to "enabled" and everything is fine again.
